Aero-Wrap™ Family of Compression Products – Tactile Medical License

Dear Valued Customer,

We at Sun Scientific are pleased to announce that effective immediately, Tactile Medical has licensed the rights to the Aero-Wrap™ family of compression products in the United States and Canada.

Sun Scientific has spent years developing the Aero-Wrap™ technology to make compression therapy easier to use and manage. Tactile Medical shares our commitment and we believe that with the license of our technology they can provide the broad spectrum of products required to treat chronic conditions with innovative compression therapy at home.

Tactile Medical is the leader in pneumatic compression technology for lymphedema and CVI and has built a world-class team, including a direct to patient sales channel, focused on providing the best possible care. From today forward, all Aero-Wrap™ products for the US and Canada will be manufactured and distributed by Tactile Medical.

For all US and Canadian product inquiries please contact Tactile Medical's customer service team either by phone: 866.435.3948 or by email at: customerservice@tactilemedical.com

Sincerely,

Dr. S Ravikumar, MD
Chief Executive Officer
